Birmingham Model Evanjelin Elchmanar Secures Place in Miss England Semi-Finals

24-year-old model Evanjelin Elchmanar has proudly secured her place in the semi-finals of the Miss England 2025 competition being held at the Grand Station Wolverhampton on October 3rd.

Standing 1.68m tall, Evanjelin will represent her hometown of Birmingham on the national stage, showcasing not only beauty but ambition, talent, and dedication.

Evanjelin brings with her a unique personal story. She was the very first baby born in Paris on Christmas Day in the new millennium, a milestone that has shaped her sense of individuality and resilience. Now, years later, she continues to make her mark — this time in one of the UK's most prestigious pageants.

Balancing her career as a professional model with her aspirations in the competition, Evanjelin is eager to inspire others through her platform. “For me, Miss England is more than a title. It’s about using your voice and presence to influence change and motivate people to pursue their dreams,” she said.

The Miss England semi-finals will bring together contestants from across the nation, with finalists earning the chance to compete for the coveted title of Miss England 2025. The winner will go on to represent the country in the Miss World contest.

Evanjelin is sponsored by Richard Murril in the contest.

Supporters can follow Evanjelin’s journey through the official Miss England website and social media platforms, where updates about the competition will be shared and vote daily for FREE by downloading the Miss England App for FREE in the lead up to the contest.
